

The twelve days of F1 Christmas

Mr C: What we're going to do hopefully is, just to get everybody in the party atmosphere, is to take ideally ten Skype callers on a conference call and each one of us will do a line.

Christine: Ten?

Mr C: Nine. Nine is the plan, because we're all going to do number one. So you're gonna do one, I'll do one, everyone will do the last one together, so we need nine callers on Skype. Do you think we can do it, and if we can't get nine, someone's gotta do more than one line.

Christine: I don't think we can do it, no.

Mr C: I reckon it's got to be worth a shot. It'll be hilarious! If it works, it'll be brilliant. Andy?
