Chris: Welcome to Sidepodcast. My name's Chris and I'm the brains behind Daily F1 Blog – dailyf1blog.blogspot.com – a Formula 1 blog that reports the news with a highly subjective and probably biased point of view.

Me: You love Jenson.

Chris: It's good though, you should check it out, but if you don't like reading too much then this may be the podcast for you. Sidepodcast is dedicated to bringing you the gossip, the winners, the losers and all the technical stuff in an easy to hear format. There'll also be plenty of Jenson.

Me: See? Told you.

Chris: Oh, that's the other host. He turns up sometimes, mostly to disagree with everything I say.

Me: No I don't.

Chris: Anyway, we'll be starting with a two part special reviewing the highs, the very highs, the lows and the ridiculously low lows of the 2006 season. After that the world is our oyster. We could talk about anything, anytime. But we'll probably settle for a weekly show, to bring you news, special features, and when the 2007 season finally arrives, coverage of each and every race. So sit back, relax and enjoy, as we bring everything you could ever possibly want to know about F1 to your door. Thank you and goodbye. Say goodbye.

Me: Huh? Is that it?

Chris: Yes. Say goodbye.

Me: Goodbye.
